The electric fuel pump is submerged in fuel inside the tank, attached to a module or hanger assembly that also includes a float and sending unit that supplies fuel level information to the dash gauge. A strainer is attached to the pump to filter the fuel. The strainer is your fuel system's first line of defense, and if it fails or becomes clogged, the pump can be damaged and/or fuel pressure ...

The fuel injection system directly injects fuel into either the combustion chamber or the intake valve. It consists of a small nozzle that atomizes fuel under high pressures. Atomization is a process by which the fuel is broken down and then mixed with air to achieve an appropriate mixture for the combustion reaction. The quality of the injector determines many important aspects of your car or ...
